

CF 7IM AAP Adventurous Fund

Investment objective

This Fund aims to provide capital growth by applying active asset allocation techniques to passive investments. There is a risk of wide fluctuations in capital values. The benchmark by which the performance of the CF 7IM AAP Adventurous Fund is to be measured is the FTSE All Share Index.

Process

We try to maximise the potential investment returns for a portfolio that is compatible with the level of risk the investor is comfortable with. We do this in two ways:

- Robust strategic asset allocation. We create efficient portfolios that combine different investment types with varying risk/return properties.
- Sensible tactical asset allocation. Short term changes to reflect our current view of the markets and economic outlook.

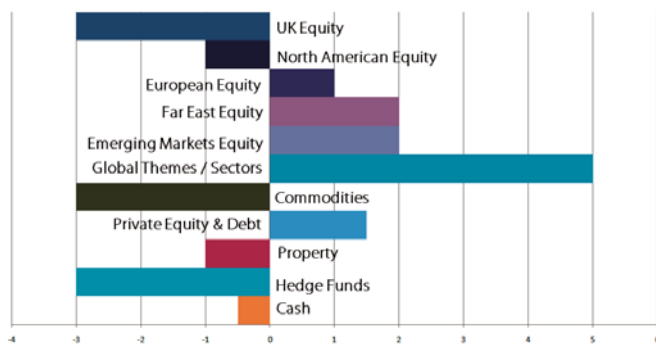

The Fund is made up of three portfolios: a core international bond and equity portfolio, a core portfolio of alternative investments and a tactical overlay that may be made up of any asset class.

The core portfolios have been defined by the investment manager as the optimum combination of investments likely to maximise long term returns for a given level of risk consistent with an adventurous investor. The tactical overlay is made up of a series of investments the portfolio manager takes, designed to take advantage of near term market conditions and trends.

The positioning of the core portfolio is reviewed annually by the investment manager to ensure its validity. The positioning of the tactical overlay is reviewed quarterly by the investment manager's Asset Allocation Committee and is subject to continual review against the latest market information.

Tactical Asset Allocation

The Fund's (under)/over-weights against the portfolio manager's long term strategy neutral for a given level risk is shown below. The strategy neutral is the portfolio manager's assessment of the portfolio that will give an adventurous investor the optimal balance of risk and return based upon long term returns data.
